

МИЛАНДА УЛЬЯНА

In our time, modern generation prefers young, kind, friendly teachers. Yes, it's cool when your teacher is cheery - disposition and when he plays different funny games at lesson. But we should think about it, if ~~could~~ may young teachers give to us many experience?

I can give an example. At my school has come new young teacher. She's very nice and she's never ~~be~~ cross or cool. She's very shy, and using this my classmates often ~~too~~ talking very loud, even allow himself to go out without asking permission. That's happened with every new young teacher. They haven't an experience be serious, firm, and more educated. They very emotional and can't withstand to pupils, because they want get good attitude from students. I don't mind ~~to~~ against funny, young teachers, but I think ~~for~~ mission of the teacher to teach our pupils as best as possible.

Our school have one the oldest teacher. Many students avoid her. When I was younger, I scared her too. But now, when I realized that she one of the skilled, hard-working, and wise, I have loved her. She is very firm, but it's her specialty. Of course teachers should be witty, quick, friendly, it helps to establish a contact. But teacher needs the time to become real teacher who can support our students in different situations, give true advice. That's needs time to get skills.
