

A Real Teacher.

At always time teaching be most important professions in our life. But not every teacher respected and significant. And not every teacher can be called a "real teacher."

In my opinion, teacher first of all must be good psychologist, to find an approach to children. Also he must be educated and versatile. Children must listen to the teacher, but he should not turn into a tyrant.

Of course, the ideal teacher must also be tolerant and balanced. But between the ideal and the real teacher is a huge difference, which should not be forgotten.

Teacher must be example for the children all along the line. And a huge role in this is the look. Of course, this is at least austere dress or any other business clothes.

In addition to the professional requirements, such as kindness, concern and love for his disciples.

Undoubtedly, teaching is very sophisticated and demanding.
